ABOUT ME

Software developer with around 3 years of experience building web applications, backend APIs, and AI-powered tools. I work across full stack - frontend with React and Next.js, backend with Node.js and Python, and databases with PostgreSQL and Supabase. I also have hands-on IT support experience covering Active Directory, Microsoft Office, and hardware troubleshooting. I've shipped real products for real clients, worked in on-site & remote teams, and I'm comfortable picking up new technologies and figuring things out independently.
